

Annexe 2 : Un exemple de carte numérique du voyage d'Énée

The screenshot displays the UMAPPER application interface. At the top, the title "Le voyage d'Énée" is followed by the subtitle "Découvrons le parcours d'Énée en Méditerranée". Navigation buttons for "Edit Info", "Delete Map", "View Map", and "Exit Editor" are visible. The map shows a blue route connecting several locations: Tunis, Sicily (Trapani, Palermo, Catania, Ragusa), Italy (Terni, Vatican, Foggia, Bari, Salerno, Taranto, Catanzaro), Albania (Vlorë, Ioannina), Greece (Pátra, Athens, Mytilène, Heráklion, Chania), and Bulgaria (Burgas). A search bar is positioned at the top right of the map area. The sidebar on the right contains a "Save" button, "Export ActionScript", and sections for "Tools", "Objects", "Media", "Routing", and "Data Import". The bottom right corner includes a copyright notice: "© 2008 - Maps from openstreetmap.org".
